

José Boisjoli, président et chef de la direction de BRP, annonce son départ à la retraite d'ici la fin de l'exercice financier après 22 ans à la barre de la Société

Mai 29, 2025

Valcourt, Quebec, May 29, 2025 – BRP Inc. (TSX:DOO; NASDAQ:DOOO) today announced that, after 22 years as President and Chief Executive Officer, José Boisjoli has informed the Board of Directors ("Board") of his intention to retire by the end of the fiscal year, at which time he will also step down from his role as Chair of the Board. During his tenure, Mr. Boisjoli spearheaded BRP's remarkable growth story, from a Bombardier spin-off to a publicly traded, global leading Powersports OEM. As part of an ongoing succession plan, BRP's Board is conducting a search for the Corporation's next President and CEO. Mr. Boisjoli will continue to lead BRP until the appointment of his successor.

In 2003, Mr. Boisjoli, who was then President of the Snowmobile and Watercraft division of Bombardier, became President and CEO of BRP on the day it became a standalone company. Mr. Boisjoli laid out his vision for the making of BRP as we know it today. Under his leadership, the Corporation diversified its product portfolio, dealer and distributor network and manufacturing footprint, propelling its growth and more than tripling its revenue ¹. With seven product lines covering every single season, BRP's Powersports market share increased threefold ¹ over the past two decades: today, one out of every three products sold worldwide carries the BRP logo.

"Leading BRP has never been a job: it's been a work of passion and a true honor," said José Boisjoli, President and CEO of BRP. "During my 36-year career at BRP, I have had the privilege to shape its DNA alongside brilliant minds and talented people who have relentlessly pushed the limits of innovation to offer the best experiences to our riding communities. Reflecting on my journey, I am proud that we have proven ourselves capable of changing the name of the game within the Powersports industry and built a strong organization that is well positioned for the long-term. I am grateful for everyone who contributed to BRP's success."

"On behalf of the Board, I want to thank José for guiding BRP on a tremendous path of growth and diversification over the past 22 years, and for his stewardship of the business," said Barbara Samardzich, Lead Director of BRP's Board of Directors. "He has led with purpose and vision, implementing impactful strategies that have resulted in strong value creation and significant returns for shareholders. José has surrounded himself with a seasoned executive team and, together, they will continue driving the business plan and facilitate a smooth transition to a new CEO, when the time comes."

In a separate press release issued today, BRP announced its financial results for the first quarter of fiscal year 2026. The Corporation will hold a conference call and live webcast to discuss these results at 9:00 a.m. Eastern Daylight Time, followed by its Annual and Special Meeting of Shareholders conducted by live webcast at 11:00 a.m.

Forward-Looking Statements

Certain statements included in this press release, including statements relating to the expected timeline for retirement and transition to a successor, statements relating to BRP's position for long-term success, and statements relating to the executive team and their ability to drive the business plan and facilitate a smooth transition, constitute "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of applicable securities laws.
